Gail Taback (née Baugher) died December 31, 2024. She was "a pistol," as all who knew her said... so funny and smart and classy!
 She is survived by a daughter, in Point Reyes Station, as well as a sister in upstate New York, a brother in Denver, step - daughter in Maine, and step-son in Los Angeles. And their children. As well as the children of another younger sister who unfortunately died before her. She was married to Frank Kuenstler, the poet, from 1965-68; and Simms Taback, Artist-Illustrator til his death in 2011 (for 40 years). She was from Hershey Pennsylvania, and lived all over the East Coast, particularly in New York City and upstate New York. She loved the hymns of her grandmother's church and all world cultures and beliefs. She had education and a conscience, and supported many causes. She wrote a dissertation in 1980 for her PhD on how the growth of corporate America ruined small towns. She studied the world of work, and was a career counselor (and published two books on the topic.)
 Toward the end she believed in the right to choose one's death, using medical means and organizations committed to these values. She had lived with Progressive Supra Nuclear Palsy for 10 years. The world has lost a woman of great inner and outer beauty. May those who knew her be touched by her memory in quiet moments.
